My family and I have always been advocates of outdoor recreation and access to our public lands is very important. In the last 10-15 years we have seen a marked decline in areas set aside for motorized recreation, while simultaneously there has been an increase in the amount of users. This leads to overcrowding of the open areas and has a greater impact on the environment within those areas. The loss of this recreation area within the Las Vegas District would be devastating to all outdoor users.
